

Risk Management Educational Opportunities

OVERVIEW OF ISSUE

There are several educational opportunities for individuals to learn about risk management and patient safety at introductory and advanced levels. Some courses include quality improvement as well. The audiences for these offerings include quality and risk management professionals, managers, senior leaders, and board members. This Risk Note outlines some of the available courses across Canada and in the United States (US). HIROC is not affiliated and does not endorse any specific courses.

KEY POINTS

- Educational opportunities exist across Canada and the US for risk managers to learn more about risk management and the links to patient safety and quality.
